Oshkosh Defense Statement on USPS NGDV Manufacturing Site Decision

Oshkosh Defense will manufacture the USPS Next Generation Delivery Vehicle (NGDV) in our Spartanburg, South Carolina facility. We looked throughout many states, including Wisconsin, for an existing facility that was large enough to build the NGDV. The manufacturing space needed – a minimum of 825,000 square feet, is more than twice the size of our largest Oshkosh, Wisconsin facility. In fact, Wisconsin did not have a single available building that could meet the requirements for NGDV. Further, with the strict timing requirements of the program, building a new facility was not feasible. Facility preparations in South Carolina are well underway to ensure Oshkosh will meet contractual deadlines for deliveries to the Postal Service in 2023.
